Dear College Parents

Extra Lessons

It is with pleasure that the teachers of the College make themselves available generally to pupils for extra lessons in their respective subjects. The schedule is set according to the changing co-curricular programme. By the staff committing themselves each to offering one hour's free tuition every week, we seek to provide the maximum assistance we can to pupils. Pupils may request attendance with any teacher and are not restricted to having lessons with only those who teach them in the course of the school day. We ask that teachers are made aware of any such requests at least 24 hours beforehand – no teacher will be required to remain at school in the advertised slots if no pupils have indicated they would like a lesson. The lessons will accommodate all pupils who wish to make use of any particular teacher's expertise at any time and exclusive individual bookings will not be considered. Equally, these lessons will not necessarily target homework or specific test preparation. The work covered will take pupil requests into account, but will ultimately be determined by the teachers. It is important to note that these lessons are intended to supplement classroom teaching, not replace it. These lessons will also provide a good opportunity for teachers to request the attendance of certain pupils and so this may happen from time to time.
